Hemp for Canines is an excellent choice when looking to support your dog's overall health and important endocannabinoid system. Your dog will love the soft, tasty chew, and you will appreciate the high quality, non-GMO, European hemp.

Purity and Safety Matter

Following the style of stringent practices used by European Ecocert farming, every facet of Hemp for Canines is completely traceable. This starts with the seeds, to the farm, to the extraction facility, to knowing the exact time and date the ingredient arrived in the United States.

It's non-GMO and ultra-clean hemp. With no pesticides or herbicides used in the growing process and the intensive testing—you can count on a high quality product.

Hemp for Canines contains less than 0.3% THC, the compound in hemp that causes a high.

Only the Best for Your Dog
